For Immediate Release

Aspiring Leader Seminar is coming to Williamsport!

Supervisors, managers, and other workplace leaders can register now for this engaging seminar that will help you become a better leader.

Williamsport, PA – May 7, 2018. Great leaders are needed everywhere and with our rapidly expanding service-oriented economy front line leadership skills have never been more important.

Business consultant and Williamsport native, Dennis Gilbert, will facilitate a six hour program that launches with a sign-in time of 8:30 AM, on Wednesday, June 12, 2018 at the Historic Genetti Hotel in downtown Williamsport. This full-day program will be packed with engaging and interactive content designed to help participants lead in today's rapidly expanding service economy.

Today's leaders are more than just supervisors or management team members. They are the heart of inspiration, teamwork, and create the atmosphere required for the pursuit of common goals.

This seminar covers many of the foundation skills that build great leadership habits. Participants will explore what it means to be a leader, not just a supervisor or manager. We will be covering change, communication, and motivating the team. Tough topics that are sometimes taken for granted such as resiliency, understanding priorities, and the difference between facts and opinions.

When you register early, you can enjoy a $100.00 discount per person off of the program fee. This discount is available only through May 25th or until the seminar is full, whichever comes first.

Join Dennis in downtown Williamsport on June 12th to sharpen your leadership skills during this full-day seminar. Register now with $100.00 off for a net price of $199.00. Additional information is available on his website at: http://Dennis-Gilbert.com/events.
